SPIE to showcase at Expo Real 2017

Technical services for buildings, facilities and infrastructure, all from a single source

Munich, September 19th, 2017 – SPIE will be showcasing its expanded range of services for office and logistics real estate, data centres and industrial sites at Expo Real 2017, the largest B2B trade fair for real estate and investment in Europe. As an independent European market leader in multi-technical services in the areas of energy and communications, SPIE will focus on five service areas at the trade fair: technical facility management system solutions, energy-efficiency solutions, technical services for the transmission and distribution of energy, services for industrial customers and services in the areas of information, communication, network and media technology in addition to electrical and security technology and heating, air conditioning and ventilation systems.

SPIE's appearance at Expo Real clearly demonstrates its consistent and targeted development as a multi-technical services provider. Since 2014, it has made ten acquisitions in Germany and Central Europe – including three this year alone. By acquiring the SAG Group, SPIE has positioned itself as a leading system service provider for electricity, water, gas and telecommunications infrastructures. In addition, the LÜCK Group is strengthening its expertise in the complex environment of data centres while bringing along extensive experience and excellent references in the building technology business.
